WHAT IS PLANETARY HEALTH?

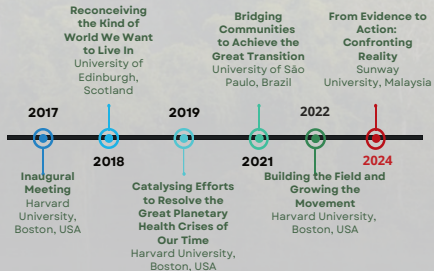

Planetary health is a solutions-oriented approach focused on tackling humanity's actions that affect the natural systems so that both people and planet can thrive. To advance humanity's wellbeing, the declining state of planet Earth can no longer be ignored.

WHAT IS THE PLANETARY HEALTH ANNUAL MEETING?

The Planetary Health Annual Meeting (PHAM) is a global convening of scientists, policymakers, educators, young leaders, the private sector, and other planetary citizens. Held every 18 months, it aims to connect this global community, seek solutions for the grand challenges facing humanity, and provide tools and drivers to support systemic change.

The 2024 Planetary Health Summit and Annual Meeting (PHAM 2024) will be the first of its kind to be held in Southeast Asia, hosted by Malaysia.

THE PLANETARY HEALTH ROADMAP

Through a global consultative process with policymakers, industry leaders, academic experts, and civil society across four focus areas, PHAM2024 will produce a global planetary health roadmap designed to help stakeholders to influence policies and behavioural norms more effectively in their respective countries, regions, and globally.

The roadmap will focus on four focus areas:

Reimagining governance institutions

Revolutionising approaches to education

Building a science-informed popular global movement

Engaging business to operate by planetary health

WHAT IS THE THEME OF PHAM 2024?

For science to be transformational, it must be crafted for action, communicated in ways that the public can understand, and decision-makers can act upon AND SO the theme for PHAM 2024 is 'From Evidence to Action: Confronting Reality'.
