

Religion is what binds us together. Ethics is what guides us. Law is how we order our lives in relation to society—a society now including non-human beings, ecosystems, and future generations of all species.

FORUM ON RELIGION, ETHICS, AND LAW IN A TIME OF PLANETARY CRISIS AND POLITICAL DECLINE

Binkley Memorial Baptist Church
1712 Willow Drive, Chapel Hill, NC 27514
Saturday, April 20, 2024
9:00 am to 4:00 pm
Coffee and check-in at 8:30 am

Featuring a conversation with:

KARENNA GORE, Executive Director of the Center for Earth Ethics at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

HERMAN GREENE, President of the Center for Ecozoic Studies in Chapel Hill and Thomas Berry Scholar-in-Residence of the Earth Law Center in Durango, Colorado.

SUSANNAH TUTTLE (moderator), Eco-Justice Connection Director of North Carolina Power & Light, North Carolina Council of Churches in Raleigh.

Focusing on these questions:

Where are we? At the beginning of a golden age of innovation and progress? Or on the precipice of ecological catastrophe and political breakdown? Or both?

How do Religion, Ethics, and Law need to respond to our planetary crisis and political decline? How must they change to do so? What is our role in bringing these changes about? And how will the changes affect our lives?

Primary sponsors of the Forum are: Binkley Memorial Baptist Church and the Center for Ecozoic Studies, with appreciation to the Binkley Earth Ministries Team for organizing this forum.

Co-Sponsors of the Forum are: Eco-Justice Connection and North Carolina Interfaith Power and Light, the Alliance of Baptists, Orange-Chatham Interfaith Care for Creation, Interfaith Creation Care of the Triangle, and Climate Action NC.
